"Have you got any bread made out of Spray Yeast?" said a farmer from Pratt county as he climed up on a high stool at a North Main street short order restaurant yester. "Don't know," said the man be-hind the counter. "We have baker's bread." "My wife was up to Pratt," said the farmer, "about two weeks ago and got some little samples of Spray Yeast that had been sent out there by some of the wholesale grocery houses here in Wichita, and I just want to tell you that I have never eaten such good bread since my mother used to bake Yeast bread in an old fashiqued even way back in Pennsylvania." I used to think that nothing had ever been invented that would bake bread like the old-fashioned ovens that our grandnothers used to make bread in, but I have found out that it was more in the yeast than in the oven. I have made up my mind that the making of the gennine old hop yeast became one of the lost arts, and Farnum & Co. of this city have discovered it. I am going to buy enough Spray yeast to do me for a year, for fear the factory barns down or something else happens to We offer all our Novelty prevent any more of it being made."

Then Tom Fitch and Ed Jewett started Suits at reduced prices this out to hunt up a grocery store that sold week. It is very unusual spray yeast. "If there is anything on for us to cut the prices on earth that I like to eat better than anydress goods this early in the season, but we do it now ing to have some bread like that farmer was talking about. DIED IN IRFLAND.

Yesterday a cablegram was flashed across the ocean from the far off shores of the Emerald Isle, to Mrs. J. J. McNamara, containing the sad intelligence of the death of her father. Thomas Slattery. E-q., of Kilrush, County Clare, Ireland. Mr. Slattery was sixty years old and a gentleman of high standing in the ancient and prosperous county in which he was born, lived and died. The intelligence was particularly distressing to Mrs. McNamara for the reason that she was Bill of Fare Sunday, October 22, 1893. expecting a vi-it from her father this winer and for which she has been looking for many years with the most pleasant anticipation. A JOINT DEBATE.

The joint debate between Hon. George L. Douglas and Hon. J. B. Dunsmore on the 31st inst., is being discussed by every-body, now, and all the talk is that it will be a battle of the giants. On the after-noon of the 31st, at 2 o'clock p. m., Mr. Douglass will open the debate, and Mr. Dunsmore will close, each speaker talking an hour and a half. In the evening at 7:30, Mr. Dunsmore will open the debate and Mr. Douglass will close. The subject of the debates will be the contest at Topeka last winter, the causes which led to it, the disgraceful spectacle and the result. These men were the leaders of the opposing forces, speakers of the rival houses, and as a consequence, know more about the squabble than any one else. There has been a growing desire on the part of num-erous persons to hear these two men tell of the "rise and fall of the rump bouse." The Populists believe Mr. Dunsmore fully capable of maintaining his position, and are apparently auxious to have him pitted against Mr. Douglass. The Republicans Mr. Douglass. It will be listened to by a large number of people, and for the next ten days it will be the best advertised event that ever took place. The debate will take place in the Crawford opera ANNUAL CATHOLIC FAIR.

The wheel of time has rolled around again and the annual Catholic fair is at hand. This is an event that is looked forward to with pleasant anticipations by the in annual fete, but it also brings all nationalities and faiths together, to whom the Catholic young ladies will have an opportunity to show how pleasing they can be and how pleasant they can make visit for the guests. The fair this year will surpass all previous efforts, for the arrangements have been elaborate not only in the line of securing better displays but better attractions as well. It will be held in the Getto block corner of Second and Main street, and Shaw's full and famous orchestra will

"WAY UP MASONS,

As usual Wichita men again get to the front this time it is in one of the most ancient as well as the best secret societies. The supreme council of the A. and A. Scottish Rite Masons held its bi-ennial session in St Louis the past week which was largely attended by the 33 degree masons from all yarts of the United States. This honorary degree is only confered on a very few at their meetings which occur every two years, and out of a class of mixture that came from the states from the Atlantic to the Pacific eight of them were from Kansas and four of those from Wichita Consistary No. 2 viz: C. M. Jones, J. H. Aley and Ed Goldberg of this city and Crionel H. C. Loomis, of Winfield. These gentlemen returned home yesterday in charge of their Chaperon J. Giles Smith 33 degree who is now deputy inspector for southern Kansas. They all felt highly elated over their advancement and were receiving the congratulations of their friends as was also the four other mymbers of this consistory who were elected Knights of the Court of Honor. Wichita is the stile block that enables them to mount the Masonic goat for the last and loftiest ride. The fortunate ones to receive this honor were D. A. Mitchell, H. C. Sluss, J. H. McCall and E. E.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT,

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon while J. B. Mooney, a brakeman on the Rock by trained horses are the salient features Island road, was engaged in switching cars at Enid, O. T., his right foot caught on the rail and before he could free it the cowentcher of a locomotive ran over the foot mangling it in such a manner as to necessitate amputation. Dr. F. E. Mc-Clane performed the operation, and he was brought to this city and taken to the Wichita hospital where he arrived at 12:30 o'clock this morning. When a reporter called at that hour he found Drs. Oldham and Fabrique who had dressed it, and everything was in prime order, Mr. Mooney feeling as chipper as possible under the circumstances. Mr. Mooney is an old conductor, having served in that capacity for years, but at present was breaking. an order to report to Herrington tomor row to take a train. DOC SNAP.

The case of the state against Doc Spap is still on trial and all the evidence will not be in till Monday. Snap, himself, was on the witness stand yesterday and made a very favorable impression. He told his story in an apparently straight-forward manner, and the most rigid cross examination of the attorneys for the state couldn't make him contradict himself in the least particular. Sheriff Ault and Deputy Sheriff McCollister were also on the stand and they swore that Hancher told them that Snap had nothing to do with the robbery. The very fact that Hancher, who was one of the leaders in the robbery. has given in such strong testimony against Spap has created quite a good deal of sympathy for the latter among the outsiders who are watching the case, but, as outside sympathy will have no effect on Judge Reed's court, it is hard to forecast, if it were allowable, the result of the trial. County Attorney Boone is confident of conviction, while Snap's attorneys seem to be equally confident of acquittal
